Lesson 57 Repetition Words

Vocabulary

bada repeatedly, at random

badan repeatedly, in a pattern over which humans have no control barada repeatedly, in a pattern fixed arbitrarily by human beings

baradan repeatedly, in a pattern fixed by humans by analogy to some phenomenon

(such as the seasons)

baradá repeatedly, in what appears to be a pattern but cannot be demonstrated or proved to be one

There is no interrogative form, so we cannot ask "In what sort of pattern does this occur repeatedly?"

Originally, "barada," "baradan," and "baradá" were all coined beginning with "br," a consonant cluster forbidden in Láadan. This was an historical accident (occasioned by the fact that "r" isn't a consonant in the same sense that "b" is) and has been corrected by the second generation developing Láadan. Though we won't be using "brada," "bradan," and "bradá," you should recognize them should you happen upon them.

Additional Vocabulary

duthahoth hospital [dutha (heal) + hoth (place)]

limlim bell [onomatopoeia]

loshebelid bank [losh (money/credit) + belid (house)]

-ú Suffix: do-ee; one to whom a VERB is done {AB}

wéehoth library [wéedan (read) + hoth (place)]

Repetition Word Syntax

The repetition [words] ordinarily go at the end of the clause [defined as: Verb Phrase + Noun Phrase(s)] over which their scope extends; the Evidence [Word] will, of course, occur at the end of the sentence—after the repetition [word]. The repetition [words] include repetition in their intrinsic meaning; they do not require any assistance (such as the prefix "ne-" on the verb) in conveying this meaning.

Examples

Bíi ril sháad le bethedim wa. I am going home.

Bíi ril sháad le bethedim bada wa. I keep going home again and again (but with no particular pattern to my visits).

Bíi memina ash thoshesha wa. The stars move in the sky.

Bíi memina ash thoshesha badan wa. The stars move in the sky (every night, despite what humans may think or try to do about it).

Bíi dóhéthe le shod lethoth wa. I clean my room.

Bíi dóhéthe le shod lethoth barada wa. I clean my room regularly (eg weekly: arbitrary period set by humans).

Bíi yod le wa. I eat.

Bíi yod le háasháaleya wa. I eat in the morning.

Bíi yod le háasháaleya baradan wa. I eat every morning (by analogy to pattern of nature).

Bíi yod le baradan wa. I eat regularly (in a pattern by analogy to nature).

Bíi ham yul wa. The wind blows.

Bíi ham yul baradá wa. The wind blows again and again (in what seems to be a pattern, but cannot be demonstrated or proved to be one).

Exercises

Translate the following into English.

- 1 Bíi eril dibíi ábedá wa, "Bíiya mehéeya dithemid letho bada wa."
- 2 Bíi naya onin thul lethath baradan wáa.
- 3 Bíi meshim romid wemeneya badan wáa.
- 4 Báa dedide omá bedihádim bada?
- 5 Bíilan mehamedara lezh diídineya barada wa.
- 6 Báa ozh withid betheth bethu baradá?

Something similar to #1 could have been rendered as Bîi eril dibîiya ábedá wa, "Bîi mehéeya dithemid letho bada wa." This would have emphasized the speaker's perception of the fear in the farmer's utterance rather than the farmer's own acknowledgement of speaking in fear.

Add the indicated repetition word; translate into English before and after.
